DESCRIPTION

The all-time favourite shell jacket comes now also in camo!

Designed especially for all the passionate sportfishers and hunters, who want to blend into the surrounding environment, while still being comfortably protected from the weather.

The Ursuit® Märket shell jacket is named after the lighthouse standing high and mighty in the sea of Åland. It's made of vapor permeable and water tight Ursuit 4-Tex® fabrics, same as we use in some of our drysuits.

The jacket is designed to give the best mobility and comfort in any situation. It has a big attached hood that gives you the possibility to wear a hat or a cap underneath, and it can be adjusted to a very precise fit. The sleeves can be tightened against the wrist. The pockets on the jacket are big, and have splash proof zippers. There is also one zippered pocket inside the jacket.

The jacket is equipped with two attached D-rings, one in the neck and one down on the back side. The D-rings are ideal for attaching and hanging fishing etc. equipment. The jacket has one inner pocket that can be closed with a zipper.

This version of the jacket includes extra reinforcements on the elbows, as well as Velcro loop panels on both arms for patches/reflectors.

Get the best experience by pairing the jacket with the Märket shell trousers!

The jacket is also available in red and navy black colors.
